

These stories are from pages 8 and 22 of First News. Read the stories, and then try the puzzle. To help you, we have underlined the answers to the crossword puzzle clues in the stories – but you will need to match the correct word with each clue!

CRAZY BUT TRUE

● Cereal success

A SPRING onion-flavoured breakfast cereal is on sale in South Korea!

The story of this strange cereal began 16 years ago. Kellogg's asked people in South Korea to vote for a new cereal flavour. It was a bit of a joke because the choices were chocolate or green onion (which we call spring onion). The company presumed everyone would choose chocolate, but no, they voted for the green onion one!

Kellogg's Korea ignored the vote and launched the chocolate one anyway. People have been asking for the onion cereal ever since! It's taken a long time, but Kellogg's Korea has finally given in and launched a green onion cereal. It has been called a "victory for democracy"!

MEET MOO THE MISMATCHED DOG

Moo looks like he's half dachshund, half Dalmatian. Aww!

HOW cute is this two-tone sausage dog, who looks a little like he is half dog/half cow?!

Like many dachshunds, seven-month-old Moo has a brown and black face, but a black and white spotted body, like a Dalmatian!

His owner Victoria from Miami, USA, reveals that Moo's unique look often makes people think he is wearing a coat! She says that he loves taking naps on his back and that his fave treats are watermelon or almonds. He already has a huge following on social media thanks to his unusual appearance. Well, you'd be barking mad not to love this pretty pup!

DO YOU WANT TO SMELL LIKE SPACE?

THE smell of space is being released as a perfume.

NASA – the American space agency – first developed the fragrance more than ten years ago to help astronauts know what to expect in outer space. They made it using descriptions from astronauts, who said the smell of space was a mix of fireworks, steak and raspberries. Wow! But now a company has got hold of NASA's recipe and raised enough money to release it as a perfume. It is called 'Eau de Space', which roughly speaking, means 'space water'!

ACROSS

- 4) The way that someone or something looks (noun 10)
- 7) People who go into space to learn new things about it (plural noun 10)
- 8) Paid no attention to (verb 7)

DOWN

- 1) Taste (noun 7)
- 2) Dogs that are also known as sausage dogs because of their small, sausage-shaped bodies (noun 10)
- 3) A breakfast food made from grains, such as wheat, maize or rye, and eaten with milk (noun 6)
- 5) Chose (verb 5)
- 6) Perfume (noun 9)

These stories are from pages 8 and 22 of First News. Read the stories, and then try the puzzle. The answers to the clues are all words in the stories. Answer the clue and then underline the word.

CRAZY BUT TRUE

● Cereal success

A SPRING onion-flavoured breakfast cereal is on sale in South Korea!

The story of this strange cereal began 16 years ago. Kellogg's asked people in South Korea to vote for a new cereal flavour. It was a bit of a joke because the choices were chocolate or green onion (which we call spring onion). The company presumed everyone would choose chocolate, but no, they voted for the green onion one!

Kellogg's Korea ignored the vote and launched the chocolate one anyway. People have been asking for the onion cereal ever since! It's taken a long time, but Kellogg's Korea has finally given in and launched a green onion cereal. It has been called a "victory for democracy"!

MEET MOO THE MISMATCHED DOG

Moo looks like he's half dachshund, half Dalmatian. Aww!

HOW cute is this two-tone sausage dog, who looks a little like he is half dog/half cow?!

Like many dachshunds, seven-month-old Moo has a brown and black face, but a black and white spotted body, like a Dalmatian!

His owner Victoria from Miami, USA, reveals that Moo's unique look often makes people think he is wearing a coat! She says that he loves taking naps on his back and that his fave treats are watermelon or almonds. He already has a huge following on social media thanks to his unusual appearance. Well, you'd be barking mad not to love this pretty pup!

DO YOU WANT TO SMELL LIKE SPACE?

THE smell of space is being released as a perfume.

NASA – the American space agency – first developed the fragrance more than ten years ago to help astronauts know what to expect in outer space. They made it using descriptions from astronauts, who said the smell of space was a mix of fireworks, steak and raspberries. Wow! But now a company has got hold of NASA's recipe and raised enough money to release it as a perfume. It is called 'Eau de Space', which roughly speaking, means 'space water'!

ACROSS

- 4) The way that someone or something looks (noun 10)
- 7) People who go into space to learn new things about it (plural noun 10)
- 8) Paid no attention to (verb 7)

DOWN

- 1) Taste (noun 7)
- 2) Dogs that are also known as sausage dogs because of their small, sausage-shaped bodies (noun 10)
- 3) A breakfast food made from grains, such as wheat, maize or rye, and eaten with milk (noun 6)
- 5) Chose (verb 5)
- 6) Perfume (noun 9)

