Dear Parents/Carers,

Change of date for STMP World Book Day!

This year World Book Day is due to be on Thursday 2nd March. However, this is the day of the next proposed industrial action by the NEU. As we do not want the children to miss this exciting day, we have rescheduled and will be holding our STMP World Book Day on Thursday 9th March instead. This is the next available day without PE lessons which means the children can wear their costumes all day.

Many of the Year 6 children will be away on their school journey so we will organise an alternative Year 6 World Book Day for them in the summer term once they have finished their SATs.

The main aim of World Book Day is to encourage children to explore the pleasures of books whilst encouraging reading. We will be celebrating this day in a variety of ways – further details of which will be sent out early next week. This will include asking children to dress up as a character from a favourite book, and bring their book with them if possible. The child with the most creative and imaginative costume (preferably no footballers or princesses!) will receive a certificate in our World Book Day assembly. Please do not feel the need to go and buy costumes; we would encourage you to be creative with what you already have.

Children will also be given a £1 book token each, that can be used to purchase any of the World Book Day special books or which can be used as a discount for other books.

Thank you for your continued support. Watch out for further English events happening here at St Mary & St Pancras in the coming weeks. Happy reading!
